Dear Subscriber,

We are pleased to announce subscription information regarding the Australasian Journal of Combinatorics for 2012.

As has been the case for the previous twelve years, there is no change in the subscription price for each volume. The annual publication and subscription information is:

- ISSN: 1034-4942. Volumes 52 (February), 53 (June) and 54 (October) will appear in 2012.
- Subscription rates for 2012, including postage, are:
  - $240 (Australian dollars) Australia.
  - $250 (Australian dollars) New Zealand, economy air mail.
  - $255 (Australian dollars) Asia, economy air mail.
  - $260 (Australian dollars) elsewhere, economy air mail.
- The price of a single volume, including postage, is $AUD85 (within Australia), or $AUD90 (elsewhere).
- An individual subscriber who is also a member of the CMSA is entitled to a discount of $AUD10 per volume off the above figures; thus a full annual subscription by an individual member of the CMSA will cost $AUD30 less than indicated above.
- There are no additional applicable agency discounts. There is no on-line version of current volumes of the journal (but volumes published more than 4 years ago are available on-line).
- If possible, renewals should be received by the start of February 2012 to ensure uninterrupted supply.

Any correspondence regarding subscriptions should be directed via email to pa@maths.uq.edu.au or to
